Helpful Hint: This is a good project to use your Stamparatus.

Instructions:

1. Prepare outer box base. Punch the 2 x 8-1/2" piece with the Scallop Tag Topper Punch on both ends. Use your smallest wide Rectangle Stitched Framelit Die to die cut a window about 1/4" below the hole the tag topper leaves so you can see inside your candy box.
2. Prepare inner box base. Score, cut and punch with a 1-3/8" Circle Punch. Apply adhesive as show in the pictures below. Fold up your box and adhere between the score line on the outer box using Tearn and Tape Adhesive.
3. With your Whisper White Cardstock, die cut the scalloped line from the Be Mine Stitched Framelits Dies. Cut out a 2" piece to match the size of the candy box being cautious to cut the ends in coordinating places. Adhere this piece to DSP as shown using SNAIL Adhesive. Adhere the combined piece to the candy box using the same adhesive.
4. On your 2-1/2 x 4" strip of Whisper White Cardstock, using Melon Mambo Stampin' Pad, stamp the outline butterfly of your choice. Then, using the same stampin' pad and the solid butterfly bits, stamp off first and fill in by stamping directly over the first image. Using the Night of Navy Stampin' Pad, repeat for just the small butterfly. Punch out all three butterflies. Stamp the bodies on all your butterflies with Night of Navy Classic Ink. With your fingers, gently fold in the wings and then unfold them.
5. Apply a small dot of Multipurpose Liquid Glue on the body of the small butterflies. Adhere the small butterfly of the same color to the larger butterfly. Adhere the completed larger butterfly to the candy as shown using a Mini Glue Dot. Adhere the other small butterfly to the outside of the box using a small dot of Multipurpose Liquid Glue. Be careful to not apply glue to the wings.
6. Pull your Braided Linen Trim through the holes made by the Scalloped Tag Topper Punch and make a bow to secure.
